Vishal Mega-Mart joins hands with Officenet to boost operational efficiency among retail workforce

Officenet says its platform addresses complex scenarios such as real-time floor headcount management across multiple locations and managing between 650 to 10,000 employees. The platform further enhances security with geofencing technology, creating a virtual perimeter around designated floors and restricting functionality to authorized personnel within the area. The company says that the system prioritizes data integrity, adhering to the highest standards for facial recognition and data privacy.
